ELAINE DYER

Professional Role Play Facilitator

“ It is the transformative potential of the process that attracts and sustains the interest of many mediators in mediation.

And it is the difficulty of achieving this potential that has led many mediators in search of further training and development”

Elaine has been a trainer for 20 years working with Alternative to Violence Projects all over the world. Her venues are as diverse as maximum security prisons, head office board rooms, health and educational organisations and conservation staff.

Elaine has recently returned from a tour to establish AVP( Alternative the Violence) in Africa. Elaine is a compelling speaker, combining her extensive experience in prisons and communities internationally with insights into the deeper dimensions of the human journey as we strive for true freedom

Elaine will talk on the role transformative power plays in her work and how this is achieved.
